

Junior Levels Development Coordinator

Location: SPGG

Reports to: Head Coach

Are you passionate about developing young athletes and helping them reach their full potential?

The Yard Gymnastics is seeking an energetic and experienced Junior Levels Development Coordinator to lead the design and delivery of our junior competitive gymnastics pathways at our Dover location.

This is your opportunity to shape the future of gymnastics in Singapore by guiding athletes through structured development from recreational levels to national-level readiness.

About The Yard

“Championing Youth Development Through the Power of Gymnastics”

The Yard is Singapore’s leading gymnastics provider, operating four state-of-the-art, purpose-built facilities and a dynamic portfolio of international school partnerships. As the fastest-growing gymnastics company in the region, we are committed to raising participation in the sport by setting new standards of excellence in coaching, athlete development, and facility design.

Our mission goes beyond teaching skills — we’re redefining what it means to be part of a gymnastics community. Through innovation, inclusivity, and performance-driven programming, we’re creating a world-class experience for athletes and coaches alike.

Joining The Yard means becoming part of a high-performing, international team that is revolutionising the gymnastics experience in Southeast Asia and beyond. We offer competitive salary and benefits packages, structured professional development pathways, and unparalleled opportunities for career growth through our ongoing multi-location expansion and overseas ventures.

We’re trailblazers in building holistic coaching careers — with access to mentorship programs, continuing education, global networking opportunities, and leadership roles for those ready to shape the future of the sport. If you’re passionate, progressive, and ready to grow with one of the most forward-thinking gymnastics organisations in the world, we want you on our team.

About the Role

The Junior Levels Development Coordinator is a vital role that connects recreational and competitive gymnastics. You will design structured development pathways, identify emerging talent, and deliver high-quality coaching with a long-term vision. Working closely with the Head Coach and Location Manager, you'll help position The Yard as Singapore's premier gymnastics training centre.

As the Junior Levels Development Coordinator, you will:

- Identify and nurture gymnasts with competitive potential
 - Deliver high-quality coaching aligned with long-term athlete development
 - Build structured and progressive training environments for Levels 1–4 SG
 - Collaborate with the Head Coach and Location Manager to grow our junior programmes
- Be a key driver in establishing The Yard SPGG as a centre of excellence

Your Responsibilities Will Include

- Leading junior squad coaching sessions and talent development initiatives
 - Creating structured, periodized training plans and progression milestones
 - Managing competition entries, billing, and squad calendars at SPGG
 - Coordinating athlete assessments, trials, and talent ID events
 - Engaging with parents through meetings, updates, and feedback sessions
 - Supporting coach mentorship and ongoing staff development
- Monitoring and improving class quality, communication, and programme sustainability

What We're Looking For

- A strong coaching background in gymnastics, particularly youth development
- Proven experience managing junior squads or competitive programmes
- Excellent communication and leadership skills
- Highly organized, self-motivated, and able to manage multiple priorities
- A commitment to athlete safety, wellbeing, and high-performance standards

Why The Yard?

- Join one of Singapore's fastest growing and leading gymnastics providers
- Work in a passionate, dynamic, and supportive team
- Help develop tomorrow's top athletes
- Grow with professional development and leadership opportunities
